Disclosure of Relevant Financial Relationships and Unapproved Uses of Products

It is policy at Penn Medicine Office of Continuing Medical and Interprofessional Education for individuals who are in a position to control the content of an educational activity to disclose to the learners all relevant financial relationships(RFRs) that they have with any ineligible company, which is defined as any company whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients. Disclosure to learners includes all RFRs for all those in control of content including faculty, planners, moderators, and reviewers.

The intent of this policy is to ensure that Penn CME/CE certified activities promote quality and safety, are effective in improving medical practice, are evidence-based, are based on valid content, and are independent of control from ineligible companies and free of commercial bias. Peer review of all content was conducted for all faculty presentations whose disclosure information was found to contain any financial relationships. Part of the peer review process involved reviewing the content, determining which financial relationships were relevant, and applying appropriate mitigation strategies. In addition, all faculty were instructed to provide balanced, scientifically rigorous and evidence-based presentations.

The staff in the Office of Continuing Medical and Interprofessional Education (CME and IPCE), have disclosed that they have no financial relationships with any ineligible companies. Any peer reviewer who is determined to have a relevant financial relationship must recuse themselves from the peer review process.
