The CME-accredited symposium, Infectious Diseases Update 2019 for Primary Care will be presented Friday - Saturday, November 1 - 2, 2019 at the Smilow Center for Translational Research at Penn Medicine, 3400 Civic Center Boulevard, Philadelphia, PA 19104. Please review the attached exhibitor agreement and agenda.

Exhibit space is available during this event at $1,500.00 for one day or $2,500 for both days. Each exhibitor will receive a standard 8’ table. A tablecloth and electric will be provided, if needed. Your company will be acknowledged in the conference materials, on the signage and by the course director(s) during the welcome address. Exhibits will be set-up in the Ballroom foyer. This high-traffic area is designated for breakfast and breaks. We anticipate approximately 200 attendees and speakers. Please act quickly as space is limited!

Program Overview and Target Audience

The overall goal of the two-day conference is to share state-of-the-art information related to infectious diseases clinical practice as it is applied in the outpatient as well as the inpatient setting. The course will include core topics such as antibiotics and antimicrobial resistance, skin and soft tissue infections, endocarditis, hepatitis C virus and its treatment, musculoskeletal infections, sexually transmitted diseases, human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) care, tick-borne illness, travel medicine, vaccines, Clostridium difficile infections, and non-infectious causes of fever. The conference will help providers keep up-to-date in adult infectious diseases, improve their ability to create the appropriate differential diagnoses, help improve clinical management of infectious diseases cases, and expand their knowledge base of pathogens and their clinical presentations. This conference is designed for physicians, pharmacists, psychologists, researchers, social workers, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, fellows, residents, and medical and nursing students specializing or interested in infectious disease.

If you are interested in reserving exhibit space, please complete and sign the attached Exhibitor Agreement and return it along with your exhibit fee to:

Terms & Conditions

Educational activities in the exhibit area which appear to compete with the scientific program and present research results that are being presented concurrently in the scientific program are prohibited. This includes, but is not limited to, displaying posters or other promotional materials summarizing research results, promoting meeting faculty, or distributing meeting materials such as syllabi, handouts, slides, or invitations.

The only activities which may be appropriate in exhibits are for the purpose of informing meeting participants about an organization and its products and services.

The distribution (either for free or for sale) of educational enduring materials on-site that award CME credit, including but not limited to full-text reprints or copies of articles or journal self-study programs, audiotapes, videotapes, or CD ROMs, is prohibited.

Exhibitor assumes entire responsibility for all claims, losses, costs, expenses, and damages to persons or property, as well as governmental charges or fines and attorney’s fees arising out of or caused by Exhibitor’s installation, removal, maintenance, occupancy, or use of the exhibition premises or a part thereof.

In addition, Exhibitor does not hold the meeting venue or the University of Pennsylvania responsible for maintaining insurance to cover Exhibitor’s property.

INFECTIONOUS DISEASES UPDATE 2019 FOR PRIMARY CARE

CME/CE-ACCREDITED CONFERENCE

FRIDAY-SATURDAY
NOVEMBER 1-2, 2019

Arthur H. Rubenstein Auditorium
Smilow Center for Translational Research at Penn Medicine
3400 Civic Center Blvd
Philadelphia, PA 19104

https://upenn.cloud-cme.com/ID2019
The overall goal of the two-day conference is to share state-of-the-art information related to infectious diseases clinical practice as it is applied in the outpatient as well as the inpatient setting. The course, taught by experts in the field from the University of Pennsylvania, will include core topics such as antibiotics and antimicrobial resistance, skin and soft tissue infections, endocarditis, hepatitis C virus and its treatment, musculoskeletal infections, sexually transmitted diseases, human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) care, tick-borne illness, travel medicine, vaccines, Clostridium difficile infections, and non-infectious causes of fever. The conference aims to enable providers to stay current with best practices, diagnoses, and treatments of common infectious diseases diagnosed in the primary care and other practice settings. The conference will provide relevant management advice and critical information relevant to clinical decision-making. The lectures, case discussions, and panels will provide helpful pearls as well as thorough reviews of the diagnosis and management of complex cases as instructive examples. The content is intended to augment the attendees’ ability to practice medicine according to the most recent available guidelines related to infectious disease and to broaden their knowledge of this rapidly changing field.

The conference will help providers keep up-to-date in adult infectious diseases, improve their ability to create the appropriate differential diagnoses, help improve clinical management of infectious diseases cases, and expand their knowledge base of pathogens and their clinical presentations.

This conference is designed for physicians, pharmacists, psychologists, researchers, social workers, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, fellows, residents, and medical and nursing students specializing or interested in infectious disease.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Upon conclusion of this educational activity, the participant will be better able to:

- Determine the necessary length of antibiotic treatment for common infections
- Recall the appropriate test to diagnose common sexually transmitted infections and identify the optimal therapy for each
- Discuss the different clinical manifestations of Lyme Disease and the recommended testing and treatment for each
- Describe the indications for HIV pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) and name the medication recommended for this purpose
- Name the first-line treatment for the treatment of chronic Hepatitis C virus infection and the indications for referral to a specialist
- Describe the approach to choosing empiric therapy for a skin and soft tissue infection
- Discuss the benefits and risks of three antibiotics in the treatment of C. difficile infections and the role of fecal microbiota transplantation

HOSTING DEPARTMENT

_Infectious Diseases Update 2019 for Primary Care_ is hosted by the division of Infectious Disease, Department of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.
In support of improving patient care, Penn Medicine is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

DESIGNATION OF CREDIT

Physicians: Penn Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 15.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

ABIM MOC: Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 15.0 MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine’s (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. Participants will earn MOC points equivalent to the amount of CME credits claimed for the activity. It is the CME activity provider’s responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.

Nurses: This program provides 15.0 contact hours.

Physician Assistants: AAPA accepts certificates of participation for educational activities certified for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ from organizations accredited by ACCME or a recognized state medical society. PAs may receive a maximum of 15.0 Category 1 credits for completing this activity.

Certificates and Transcripts: After the conference has concluded, all participants will receive a follow-up email with instructions and a link with instructions on how to claim their credit. Once participants submit the request for credit, the earned credits will be available for viewing on your transcript or available for printing at https://upenn.cloud-cme.com. Please note that the individual certificate will not be mailed.

REGISTRATION FEES

The registration fees for the Infectious Diseases Update 2019 for Primary Care are $395 for physicians and industry employees, $275 for nurse practitioners, physician assistants, psychologists, researchers and healthcare professionals, $175 for residents and fellows and $75 for students. The registration fee for Penn Medicine employees, faculty or staff is $75. A valid Penn Medicine ID is required to receive the special rate.

The registration fee includes attendance to the conference, a program, a link to view the slide presentations online and credit certificate. Continental breakfast, lunch and breaks will be provided on both days.

If you are registering with a credit card, please register online at https://upenn.cloud-cme.com/ID2019. You must log-in with your Penn ID or your email and password or if you do not already have a profile, you must create one before you can register for an event. We cannot accept faxed or mailed registration forms with credit card information. To pay by check, complete the registration form and mail it in with your check. Please see the registration form for mailing information. Please note: mailed registrations can take up to 5-10 business days before they are received. All registrations will be confirmed by email.
DISCLOSURES
Penn Medicine, Office of Continuing Medical and Interprofessional Education, adheres to the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support. Faculty disclosure information will be made available in the conference materials and syllabus. Faculty members are also expected to disclose to participants any discussions of off-label and/or investigational uses of pharmaceutical products within their presentations.
